

IRPA YGN Logo Competition

WIN A £50 (or Equivalent Currency) AMAZON VOUCHER!

The IPRA Young Generation Network is an international network of “Young Professionals” across the field of Radiation Protection. Its primary function is to promote communication, collaboration and professional development of Students and Young Professionals in the area of Radiation Protection and its allied fields.

The IRPA YGN will have its official launch at the IRPA European Congress at The Hague. To support the launch, we are asking you to help us design our logo and as a prize you could win a £50 Amazon Voucher!

(P.S. It is important that the new logo visually links with IRPA so that we are seen as part of IRPA and not a separate group!)

- Entries should be submitted in an image (Vector Graphic, PNG or JPEG) or PDF format to p.bryant@liverpool.ac.uk.
- Competition is open to all members of IRPA and its Associate Societies.
- Entry to the competition is restricted to one entry per person please.
- The winner will be judged by IRPA YGN Leadership Committee.
- Entries will be rated in the following categories:
 - Relevance to IRPA theme
 - Originality
 - Aesthetic quality
- Prize is an Amazon Voucher of £50 value (or equivalent currency)
- The winner will be contacted via email.
- The Judges’ decision is final.
- The competition will run until 16th April 2018 and the winner announced on 16th May 2018.